These Hoffman "headliners" mean TOP PROFITS from your '56 spring seedings

"KENLAND" CLOVER—Priced today at $12 less than 1955 cost of regular red clover, you need the extra disease resistance—the proven yield ability of this improved strain. Truly a "great buy" for those who act promptly at today's low quotation. Blue tag, certified seed. A little "Pennsco" clover also still available.

FUNK-G HYBRIDS—Last year many folks ordering late were disappointed . . . supplies were exhausted. Order your 1956 needs now . . . while you still can choose from the most popular strains. Former users of other-brand hybrids are due for a real surprise, where they will plant Funk-G seed this spring! They'll gain a new profit in extra corn . . . and more satisfaction in all-around performance.

Plant Funk-G seed . . . gain TOP corn-profits this year! Have more bushels of sound mature corn in your crib. Have more feed-units, with greatest total digestible nutrients, in your silo. Provide yourself with lower-cost upkeep of your herd . . . let Funk-G provide your best-yet corn!

"DU PUITS" ALFALFA—Rarely has a new Hoffman offering "taken hold" like this great new alfalfa development. Outstanding vigor and yield. Read again the details about "DuPuits" in your new Hoffman catalog and ORDER NOW! When you buy "DuPuits" or any of the 8 other alfalfas stocked by Hoffman you'll get years of profitable heavy cuttings from clean, long-lasting stands.

"ECONOMICAL MIXTURE"—Hundreds each year buy Hoffman "Economic" Mixture and get fine hay crops from it. Composed of about half red clover, quarter alsike, quarter timothy.

7 WAYS TOWARD OATS SUCCESS—When you select any of the 7 Hoffman oats offerings on this page, you're laying the right foundation for a profitable oats crop. Study the detailed merits of each in your Hoffman catalog. Early seeding is important . . . let us ship your order soon. Be ready before seeding weather arrives.

BIRDSFOOT TREFOIL—Never before such a call for Birdsfoot Trefoil seed. From new areas. Makes great pasture. Fine for hay, too. Inoculate, always.

PASTURES . . . LADINO—It takes good seed . . . the right grasses to start and maintain paying pastures. Hoffman stocks ALL the grasses your pasture program may need . . . to insure top results for you. Ladino makes the ideal "partner" for your pasture grasses . . . many choose the improved "Pilgrim" Ladino this year.

SORGHUM . . . SOYBEANS—Formerly considered an "emergency" silage crop . . . the sorghum-soybean combination is today part of regular cropping plans on many Eastern farms. Early bookings of sorghum this year are almost 3 times those of 2 years ago. Might it help your silage program?

RYE GRASS—Hoffman-quality rye grass sells rapidly these days. It's a "must" at last cultivation of the cornfields. Price reasonable. Quality "tops."

Seed Markets Higher . . . Buying your Hoffman Seeds at today's low quotations will prove a wise investment

By acting now, you can combine finest quality and low prices in your seed buying.

Hoffman quality alfalfa seed today is priced as much as $13 per bushel less than quotations of a year ago. Red clover is $14 less. Timothy about $6 less. Oats are as much as 35c lower today. When you consider the quality of these Hoffman seeds compared to ordinary offerings . . . here you are getting remarkable values.

But . . . there's no guarantee as to how long these low quotations can hold. Wholesale markets are quite strong today . . . increases will probably be necessary later on. Here's the picture as we see it.

Seed crops this year in most cases were large. Car-lot values early in the season were low. Hoffman bought considerable supplies of seed at those early quotations.

Today, the "Soil-Bank" talk in Washington has caused a decided up-turn in seed markets because if passed, it will mean a market for tremendous amounts of seed. Producers in the west who still have seed are holding on to it now, hoping for still higher prices later on. Actually today, for instance, car-lot values of Red clover are up awfully close to the retail quotations on the enclosed list.

There's a heavy demand for Hoffman

Quality seed this year . . . early bookings are running considerably ahead of last season. Which means . . . Hoffman's early-bought seeds are not going to last through the season. We'll have to replenish present stocks with higher-cost seed.

It all adds up to this fact: NOW IS THE TIME TO BUY YOUR HOFFMAN SEEDS.

There's nothing to be gained by waiting. Prices can move only one way . . . to your disadvantage. There's a complete stock of Funk-G varieties on hand now. Your choice will be narrowed down later on.

We'll be looking for your order soon!

Today's great FUNK-G HYBRIDS are breaking records everywhere!

The world's first corn crop of over 300 bushels from a measured acre was raised in 1955. The official yield was 304.38 bu. . . it was raised from Funk-G seed by Lamar Ratliff of Prentiss County, Mississippi.

This accomplishment is dramatic proof of the "extras" put into every Funk-G Hybrid by better breeding . . . more careful research. The "payoff" comes in extra yields from fields planted with Funk-G seed.

Delaware's 1955 official corn champion was Mr. A. C. Mackey. His winning yield figure was 126.3 bu. per acre with Funk G-91 seed.

In Virginia last fall, Mr. R. S. Rice won the state's corn Sweepstakes with Funk G-134.

In Pennsylvania's 1955 official yield contest, the highest yielding commercial hybrid was the entry of Funk G-10 grown by Ivan A. Virtue and Ivan A. Virtue, Jr. of Crawford County. Their yield was 148.5 bushels of shelled corn per acre. (2 higher yields reported were made from single-cross seed, not available commercially.) Too, in 1953 and 1954 Pennsylvania's winning yields were fields of Funk G-91 on the farm of J. E. Lanius & Son (1953—141.6 bu.; 1954—159.7 bu. per acre).

No wonder the amazing increase in Funk-G popularity! There's no doubt about it . . . no other hybrids can match the year-in, year-out yield performance of today's great Funk-G Hybrids. You owe it to yourself to gain all the extra profit your corn fields can give you. You'll get those profits by planting Funk-G this spring.
